Foreword

With the printing of this, the Morse Annual of 1963, the first year of Morse draws to a close. The Multitudes of events that have been crammed into the relatively short space of nine months doubtlessly contain a few which are rather special to each of you and which will be numbered among your most cherished memories as you grow older. Included in these pages are pictures and stories of many such events--and maybe even a picture of you--composed in such a way as to be the best possible memory guide for you.

The book now before you is the visable result of untold hours of thought and determined effort on the part of the Annual Staff, its faculty sponsor, and a host of others. To them goes the credit for a job well done. And to you go their thanks and mine for being not only the raw material, and the finished product, but also the consumer. Without you the book would have no purpose and no being.

In presenting this to you with my best wishes I speak for all those who contributed to its success; as you turn its pages, I hope a few of your memories will become more vivid, and that you will value the Morse Annual of 1963 as a treasure good for many hours of thoughtful recollection.

Dedication

Mrs. Scott,

If I wrote everything I wanted too, it'd probably take up a whole page! I just want to tell you that I benefited not only from your class but from your personality along with my close friends Kathy S. + Jane B. I wish you all the happiness in the world although, I feel, you've already achieved that!

Love ya!

THOMAS E. WALT--Principal

This has been an exciting and important year at Morse High. All of the teachers and most of the students will remember that morning in September, 1962, when the first students began to arrive. Morse staff members were pleased with the responsible attitude of this group. They were quiet and serious; they located the rooms where they received their programs; they followed their class schedules with a minimum of confusion, and they set a high standard for our first year as a school.

This has been a year of pioneering and accomplishment. There may have been times when you wished you were attending a school with completed facilities and established traditions. But, in this next year, and in years to come, I am sure that you will take great pride in the fact that you were a charter member of this new school. You will remember the problems that had to be solved and a deeper satisfaction because you have had a part in solving them.

Remember These?

Mrs. Scott,

Its been a real pleasure being in your class this year. Your the best Homemaking teacher I have ever had, infact the best teacher I will ever have. Your daughters are very lucky to have such a wounderful mother, your a very wise person, your very understanding and everyone thinks very highly of you. I don't belive this school would be very good if you weren't one of the teachers here, but seeing how you are, this is the best school in San Diego. I wanted to have you again next year but I can't because I don't have Homemaking. I honestly believe your a very wounderful person. I look in my Homemaking class next year to come to me.

Always

Marian
